Please note that, when using a Best Rate ship code, EFS may ship the package via a different method than our client was billed for. For instance, we may ship the package via Home Delivery and bill at the Ground Economy rate, ensuring our clients always pay the lowest rate, even if the shipping is upgraded.

If a carrier API does not respond at the time a shipment is at the shipping station, said carrier options cannot be included in the rate shop. This may result in the overall least expensive option not being available at ship time due to the issues on the carrier end. During known outages of the carrier APIs, the EFS operations team will attempt to set aside shipments intended for cross-carrier rate shopping.
